The Pharisees went away to work out between them how to trap Jesus in what he said. And they sent their disciples to him, together with the Herodians, to say, 'Master, we know that you are an honest man and teach the way of God in an honest way, and that you are not afraid of anyone, because a man's rank means nothing to you. Tell us your opinion, then. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not?' But Jesus was aware of their malice and replied, 'You hypocrites! Why do you set this trap for me? Let me see the money you pay the tax with.' They handed him a denarius, and he said, 'Whose head is this? Whose name?' 'Caesar's' they replied. He then said to them, 'Very well, give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar – and to God what belongs to God.'

Matthew 22:15-21

SYMBOLS AND IMAGES

At first reading, we may be tempted to think that Jesus is separating religious behaviour from political or economic behaviour. A closer reading, however, shows that this is not the case. While Jesus gives due weight to civic and political duties, his instruction to 'Give to God what is God's' reminds us that there is no aspect of human life or activity that can be considered apart from God. To seek and honour God, the believer must work within the world.

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - YEAR A

God tell us that our life is not divided into compartments, but that God uses both the secular and the spiritual to bring us to salvation.

FIRST READING Isaiah 45:1, 4-6
We hear how Cyrus, King of Persians, is chosen unknowingly to further God's work. The prophets show us that God chooses even the most unlikely persons to bring about his kingdom.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Give the Lord glory and honour.

SECOND READING 1 Thess 1:1-5
We hear how St Paul prays in thanks and praises the Thessalonians because they have been chosen by God and have responded in faith, love and hope.

GOSPEL READING

Matthew 22:15-24
We hear how Jesus reminds us that as Christians we also have secular obligations - that we must give to God and to the agencies that govern what is right and just.

THOUGHTS ON THE GOSPEL

Taxes were an incendiary issue during the lifetime of Jesus. The Roman Empire imposed a head tax on the population of Judea, Samaria and Idumea, and conducted a census to enforce it. Around A.D. 6, when Jesus was still young, Judas the Galilean led a revolt against the census, which was ruthlessly repressed by the Romans (Acts 5:37-38). The Pharisees, who resented the Roman occupation of the pure land of Israel, were against the tax, while the Herodians supported it. Together they are setting a trap for Jesus. He is faced with being either a collaborator or an insurrectionist.

By answering, “Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar,” Jesus narrows his response to only the census tax and embodies his rejection of violence as a way of dealing with oppressive situations.

The three disputes of Jesus in Matthew 22 culminate in the greatest commandments about loving God with one’s whole heart, mind and soul, and loving one’s neighbor as oneself (next Sunday’s Gospel). Humans, not coins, bear God’s true image, and no edict of Caesar can absolve Jesus’ followers from this mandate to love God and see God in the neighbor.

Fr John Donahue SJ

- Your chance of winning Lotto is only marginally increased by buying a ticket.

HEAR MY VOICE ... BELIEVE

Next weekend our Parish will be holding the annual Catholic Mission World Mission Day Appeal.

This year we are invited to hear the voice of our Indigenous brothers and sisters in Guatemala and here in Australia as they face incredible challenges. Indigenous leaders are calling for reconciliation, forgiveness and hope as they reach out and serve their communities in the name of Christ. You can hear their voice by helping raise up leaders and bring new hope to Indigenous communities and future generations. Please come prepared next weekend and give generously.
