FIRST READING

Genesis 2:18-24

The Lord God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone. I will make him a helpmate.' So from the soil the Lord God fashioned all the wild beasts and all the birds of heaven. These he brought to the man to see what he would call them; each one was to bear the name the man would give it. The man gave names to all the cattle, all the birds of heaven and all the wild beasts. But no helpmate suitable for man was found for him. So the Lord God made the man fall into a deep sleep. And while he slept, he took one of his ribs and enclosed it in flesh. The Lord God built the rib he had taken from the man into a woman, and brought her to the man. The man exclaimed:

'This at last is bone from my bones, and flesh from my flesh!

This is to be called woman, for this was taken from man.'

This is why a man leaves his father and mother and joins himself to his wife, and they become one body.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 127

May the Lord bless us all the days of our lives.

SECOND READING

Hebrews 2:9-11

We see in Jesus one who was for a short while made lower than the angels and is now crowned with glory and splendour because he submitted to death; by God's grace he had to experience death for all mankind.

As it was his purpose to bring a great many of his sons into glory, it was appropriate that God, for whom everything exists and through whom everything exists, should make perfect, through suffering, the leader who would take them to their salvation. For the one who sanctifies, and the ones who are sanctified, are of the same stock; that is why he openly calls them brothers.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

1 Jn 4:12

Alleluia, alleluia!

If we love one another,

God will live in us in perfect love.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

Mark 10:2-16

Some Pharisees approached Jesus and asked, 'Is it against the law for a man to divorce his wife?'

OUR COMMON CALLING

In his October prayer intention for a shared mission, Pope Francis is asking us all to relate to one another as family.

Pope Francis' request for prayers this month is simple and should hardly need asking for. That he does ask and feels the need to cloak his request in such big words as synodal lifestyle and co-responsibility, shows just how important it is. Put simply, Pope Francis wants us Catholics to relate to one another as brothers and sisters and to work with one another in our common calling to follow Jesus. It is the sort of thing that families do in learning how to say thank you, sorry, and please, in sharing responsibility, and in being hospitable. That is not too much to ask, and it should come naturally. It's messy but not difficult to understand. It's a way of living.

Walking together

Pope Francis calls it a synodal lifestyle. Synodal means walking together, sharing the same home, the same responsibilities and being part of the same conversations. It means not turning the home into a series of separate flats, not eating separately, not speaking only when invited to, not locking the door to keep visitors away. In the Church it means meeting one another as companions, each responsible for the Church in different ways, and talking together about what we should do and how Jesus would want us to live. Synodal is the opposite of bossy, excluding, clericalist, isolating, insisting on having the first and the last word or putting on airs. In a family, it means that everybody, and not just the children, naturally say please, thank you and sorry as needed. In conversation it means that no one begins by saying, I've got an answer, have you got a question, but all come as searchers together. In looking for the right path to follow, it means careful listening and paying attention to people, ready to learn as well as to teach in discerning God's will. If we do relate to one another in this way, we shall translate the large words of participation, communion and mission of the Church into simple actions. We shall take time to reflect together on where our local parish and larger Church should put her energies.

Take initiatives

We shall take initiatives such as sharing a cuppa after Mass, joining with other churches in providing food for people doing it hard in our community, and ensuring that at Mass we pray for the needs of Catholics and others around the world and not for those in own society. We shall be ready to take positions of responsibility for the Church when needed and to relinquish them when not needed. Rather than feeling jealous of other people or squashing them, we shall encourage others when they take initiatives. We shall always join cheerfully in prayer and conversation. Thai is what participation and communion look like. Their face is natural and not made up.

In this way we shall also share the mission of the Church, which is to wear the face of God in our neighbourhood and world just as Christ did when he joined us. This, too, is simple. It means praying together, stopping to greet people begging on the streets, keeping an eye out for strangers at Church and making them welcome, joining groups who care for refugees or prisoners, and pressing our governments to be more just and generous. In these ways religious, priests and lay people will come close as we pray, talk and work together in our different ways.

Mateship

In the messiness of our shared lives we shall recognise that we are sinners called to follow Jesus, and that God loves us in our laziness, narkiness and other human weaknesses. Perhaps our failure to recognise this simple truth explains why Pope Francis needs to speak in big words. An Australian word for the synodal way is mateship. In our Church, Christ brings the mates together.

SECOND ASSEMBLY OF THE SYNOD ON SYNODALITY

Archbishop Patrick O'Regan and John Lochowiak are participating in the Synod on Synodality being held in Rome in October. Please pray for both of them and the process of the Synod. We pray that as a Church we will all better understand that we are invited to walk together and to listen to each other prayerfully.

Information around the synod can be found here: www.synod.va/en.html

PLEASE KEEP THESE PEOPLE IN YOUR PRAYERS

Thank you for your support - it is much appreciated.

In Mongolia, vulnerable people requiring social services often face stigma for using them. Those in need are often impacted by domestic violence or homelessness. Unfortunately, support services are limited in number and the demand for them is growing.

This means some of our brothers and sisters in Mongolia are going without the help they need.

This month, we invite you to support the Church in Mongolia on their journey to provide more support for vulnerable people in need. Your kindness will ensure that more of our brothers and sisters can receive the assistance they need to get back on their feet.

They were testing him. He answered them, 'What did Moses command you?' 'Moses allowed us' they said 'to draw up a writ of dismissal and so to divorce.' Then Jesus said to them, 'It was because you were so unteachable that he wrote this commandment for you.

But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. This is why a man must leave father and mother, and the two become one body. They are no longer two, therefore, but one body. So then, what God has united, man must not divide.' Back in the house the disciples questioned him again about this, and he said to them, 'The man who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery against her. And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another she is guilty of adultery too.'

People were bringing little children to him, for him to touch them. The disciples turned them away, but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. I tell you solemnly, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.' Then he put his arms round them, laid his hands on them and gave them his blessing.

FROM DIVIDING TO UNITING

The people brought children to Jesus, hoping that he might bless them. The disciples shooed them off. But Jesus was irate and let them know it: "Don't push these children away. Don't ever get between them and me. These children are at the very centre of life in the kingdom. Mark this: Unless you accept God's kingdom in the simplicity of a child, you'll never get in." Then, gathering the children up in his arms, he laid his hands of blessing on them. (Mark 10:13-16)

There are all kinds of ways to divide up the people of the world. We can divide them in half by gender or into a handful of races and colours. Or we can divide them into countries, ethnic groups, or languages. We can divide them by class, sexual orientation, political party, or aesthetic sensibility if we prefer. We can slice up the world according to economics: rich and poor works well in most places. There are the happy and the unhappy; this generation or that; saints or sinners. Or we can just use the simple compartments "us" and "them," and add whoever we want to each box.

We can, and do, divide the world's people into lots of little categories, each of which contains an implicit judgment on who they are. Jesus represents the opposite impulse. He doesn't dismiss children as irrelevant. He doesn't champion a man's rights over a woman's in marriage. He doesn't put religious people in one corner, and sinners in another. Jesus presents love as the binding force which holds everyone together, rich and poor, men and women, slave and free. Can we change our way of thinking, from dividing to uniting?

KIDS' CORNER

Ben's older sister Linda is always on her phone. So, when her mum asked Linda to sprinkle lots of cinnamon on the sliced apples they were baking, Linda was still looking at her phone as she mumbled, "Sure." Later, everyone tasted the baked apples. Yuck! Linda used lots of red pepper, not cinnamon!

When we're careless and make mistakes, no one is happy. God wants us to care about the work we do – our handiwork. Today, do small chores carefully. You'll be helping your family in big ways!
